Veterinary Nurse Training Online is a website developed by The Bella Moss Foundation. It offers information for veterinary nurses and other practice staff on veterinary issues.

On the website you will find information on MRSA, an infection that is increasingly affecting companion animals; information on preventing hospital-acquired infection and a photographic tour of a veterinary practice showing situations that are commonly experienced by veterinary staff.

You will also have an opportunity to obtain a Certificate of Achievement by taking a multiple-choice questionnaire on the knowledge you have gained.

Veterinary Nurse Training Online is a division of The Bella Moss Foundation, a Charity offering information and support on MRSA to pet owners and providing Continuing Professional Development to veterinary staff. Veterinary Nurse Training Online is grateful for the support of the Petplan Charitable trust, which has provided sponsorship.

The website is dedicated to the memory of Nick Mills who contributed greatly to the success of this training module on MRSA
